Preamble

As a citizen of Earth, in good standing with the principles of human dignity, international law, and the universal right to self-determination, I hereby issue this formal Order to King Charles III. This directive is not a request but a lawful instruction grounded in justice, morality, and the collective will of sovereign Indigenous Nations across the globe.

The Order

1. Immediate Restitution of Stolen Lands to Indigenous Nations Worldwide - All lands currently held under fraudulent "Crown Land" designations across Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Africa, the Caribbean, and beyond are to be returned to their rightful Indigenous stewards. - Full sovereign governance is to be restored to Indigenous Nations, free from any Crown interference, oversight, or imposed legal frameworks. - The British Monarchy is to publicly acknowledge the theft, genocide, and systemic violence perpetrated under its authority.

2. Facilitation of United Nations Membership for All Indigenous Nations - The British Crown must formally support and advocate for the immediate inclusion of all Indigenous Nations as full and equal member states in the United Nations. - Diplomatic recognition of Indigenous Nations as sovereign equals must be unconditionally endorsed by the former Crown.

3. Abdication of the Throne and Dissolution of the Monarchy - King Charles III is ordered to abdicate the throne, ending the hereditary monarchy permanently. - The institution of the British Monarchy is to be dissolved, with all its legal, symbolic, and institutional structures dismantled.

4. Relinquishment of Crown Wealth and Power - All assets, properties, and financial holdings acquired through colonial exploitation are to be surrendered. - These resources will be allocated to Indigenous Nations for land restoration, cultural revitalization, and reparative justice initiatives.

5. Acceptance of Sovereign Citizenship - King Charles III, upon abdication, shall accept the status of a sovereign citizen, equal in rights and responsibilities to all other human beings. - There shall be no titles, privileges, or immunities granted to him or his descendants.

6. Transition to Indigenous Republican Governance - The Crown shall formally support the establishment of Indigenous republican systems of governance, defined by each Nation's customs, laws, and democratic principles. - All former Crown subjects shall transition to governance structures defined by Indigenous Nations, respecting their sovereignty and jurisdiction.

Conclusion

The time for symbolic reconciliation is over. Justice demands real action. The British Crown's illegitimate claims to sovereignty, land, and wealth are hereby terminated. This Order reflects the will of free citizens and sovereign Nations determined to dismantle colonial domination and restore rightful governance to the Indigenous peoples of the Earth.
