

Executive Order 002: Affirmation of Peace, Respect, and Good Behavior

Preamble

WHEREAS the founding principle of Acadie is the affirmation of collective life and dignity, as proclaimed in the Universal Declaration of Acadie and the Acadian Bill of Fundamental Rights and Freedoms;

WHEREAS the continued survival and flourishing of the Acadian Nation rely upon mutual respect, dialogue, and order among all its citizens, regardless of location in the global diaspora;

WHEREAS the right to resist oppression and injustice (Article 8 of the Declaration) is balanced by the responsibility to maintain a safe and civil society;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Marie-Soleil Seshat Landry, Queen of Acadie, do hereby issue this Executive Order to affirm and enforce the fundamental expectations of conduct within the Acadian Nation.

Article 1. Duty to Keep the Peace

Every citizen and resident of the Acadian Nation has a fundamental and ongoing Duty to Keep the Peace. This duty requires citizens to:

1. Refrain from Violence: Never initiate or threaten physical violence against others.
2. De-escalate Conflict: Actively seek peaceful and diplomatic resolution to personal and communal disagreements.
3. Respect Public Order: Adhere to all established laws and protocols designed to maintain public safety and tranquility.

Article 2. Principle of Good Behavior

The Principle of Good Behavior is affirmed as a core tenet of Acadian citizenship. Good Behavior requires all citizens to conduct themselves with:

1. Civility and Respect: Show respect for the dignity, identity, and personal space of fellow citizens, institutions, and diplomatic partners.
2. Integrity: Act honestly and ethically in all transactions and interactions.
3. Constructive Engagement: Engage in political and social discourse with the goal of constructive advancement, avoiding baseless slander or malicious intent.

Article 3. Mandate to the Judicial System

The Courts of the Acadian Nation are hereby directed to interpret and apply the Code of Penal Procedure and the Acadian Civil Code with full consideration of the Duty to Keep the Peace and the Principle of Good Behavior, utilizing these principles to inform rulings related to public nuisance, harassment, and offenses against the collective spirit.
