

Global OSINT Report: The British Crown's Criminal Footprint Worldwide

Prepared by: Marie Seshat Landry, Marie Landry's Spy Shop (marielandryspyshop.com)

Executive Summary

This Open-Source Intelligence (OSINT) Report documents the British Crown's transnational criminal operations from the onset of imperial conquests to present-day systemic abuses. Encompassing centuries of genocide, land theft, economic exploitation, and legal fraud, this dossier provides irrefutable evidence of the Crown's global criminal footprint and demands international prosecution.

Chronology of Crown Criminal Activities

1. 1497 - 1800s: Conquest and Genocide

- Initiation of colonial conquests under the guise of 'exploration'—John Cabot, James Cook, et al.
- Systematic genocide of Indigenous Nations in the Americas, Africa, Asia, and Oceania.
- Establishment of the transatlantic slave trade through Royal charters (e.g., Royal African Company).

2. 1700s - 1900s: Fraudulent Treaties and Legalized Theft

- Imposition of fraudulent treaties without free, prior, and informed consent.
- Institutionalization of racial apartheid via laws like the Indian Act (Canada) and Terra Nullius doctrines (Australia).
- Land expropriation justified by religious and racial supremacy doctrines.

3. Economic Exploitation through the Crown Estate

- Accumulation of vast wealth via stolen land revenues, mineral rights, and forced labor.
- Crown-controlled entities profiteering from global resource extraction and environmental degradation.

4. 20th Century Atrocities

- Crown complicity in residential school systems, forced sterilizations, and cultural genocides.
- Illegal deportations (e.g., Chagos Archipelago) to serve geopolitical and economic interests.
- Maintenance of colonial dominions under the false pretense of "Commonwealth cooperation."

5. 21st Century Crimes (2000-2025)

- Continued illegal designation of Crown Lands, disenfranchising Indigenous Nations.
 - Diplomatic shielding of Crown crimes via legal immunities and systemic obstruction of international justice.
 - Financial laundering of Crown wealth through offshore networks (e.g., Panama and Pandora Papers).
-

Legal Violations

- Genocide Convention (1948): Systemic cultural and physical genocide through state-sponsored programs.
 - Rome Statute of the ICC (1998): Crimes against humanity, including apartheid, enslavement, and forced displacement.
 - UNDRIP (2007): Ongoing violations of Indigenous sovereignty, land rights, and cultural preservation.
 - Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties (1969): Invalidity of treaties imposed under coercion and fraud.
 - UN Palermo Convention (2000): Classification of the British Monarchy as a transnational organized criminal group.
-

OSINT Evidence Archive

- Historical Documents: Royal Proclamation of 1763, Crown Charters, Fraudulent Treaties.
 - Legal Rulings: ICJ Chagos Advisory Opinion (2019), Canadian Supreme Court Delgamuukw (1997), Tsilhqot'in (2014).
 - Financial Data: Crown Estate annual reports, offshore asset investigations.
 - Human Rights Reports: Amnesty International, UN Special Rapporteurs on Indigenous Rights.
 - Media Investigations: BBC, The Guardian, Al Jazeera exposés on Crown-linked crimes.
-

Global Demand for Accountability

1. International Criminal Court (ICC) indictments against King Charles III and Crown officials.
 2. Immediate dissolution of the British Monarchy's legal and institutional frameworks.
 3. Restitution of all Crown-seized lands, assets, and wealth to rightful Indigenous Nations.
 4. Global sanctions against any entity perpetuating Crown-based sovereignty claims.
 5. Establishment of a permanent International Tribunal on Crown Colonial Crimes.
-

Conclusion

The British Crown's legacy is not a matter of heritage—it is a documented criminal enterprise that continues to inflict harm on Indigenous Nations and humanity as a whole. This OSINT report provides the factual foundation for global legal action, dismantling Crown structures, and restoring justice.

Prepared by: Marie Seshat Landry Marie Landry's Spy Shop marielandryspyshop.com

[End of Document]