

DRAFT - Federal Court of Canada Filing Package

Plaintiff: Marie-Soleil Seshat Landry

Defendant: His Majesty the King in Right of Canada

Location: Moncton, New Brunswick

1. Statement of Claim

Introduction

1. The Plaintiff, Marie-Soleil Seshat Landry, a citizen of Canada residing in Moncton, New Brunswick, has suffered repeated violations of her legal and constitutional rights by agents and institutions acting on behalf of the Defendant, including the RCMP and the Crown Prosecutor's Office.
2. The Plaintiff seeks remedies for breaches of her rights under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, as well as damages arising from systemic administrative errors, malicious prosecution, and coercion.

Facts

3. Between 2016 and 2019, the Plaintiff was charged with multiple criminal offences, some of which were false, fabricated, or unfounded.
4. Two charges, later dismissed and withdrawn, were erroneously recorded in CPIC as convictions for a period spanning 10 years.
5. Approximately 10 additional charges were laid against the Plaintiff, and she was subsequently remanded in custody, despite the charges being either unproven or lacking sufficient evidentiary support.
6. During her remand, the Plaintiff was coerced to enter guilty pleas on certain charges to secure her release, under duress.
7. The Plaintiff attended court for all charges, fully exercising her right to trial.
8. Despite the Plaintiff's lawful actions to defend herself, the Defendant's agents failed to maintain accurate records, engaged in coercion, and allowed systemic administrative errors to persist, causing prolonged harm.

Causes of Action

9. Breach of Charter Rights - Sections 7, 9, 11(d), and 24(1)
10. Negligence / Administrative Error - false CPIC entries
11. Malicious Prosecution / Abuse of Process - coercion and unfounded charges

Harm / Damages

12. Loss of liberty, emotional distress, reputational and financial harm.
13. Injuries are ongoing.

Relief Sought

14. Declaratory relief, damages, punitive/exemplary damages, injunctive relief, and any further relief deemed appropriate.

Conclusion

15. The Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Honourable Court grant the relief sought and any additional orders deemed necessary to ensure accountability and justice.
