Marie-Soleil Seshat Landry:

The Civilian Review and Complaints Commission for the RCMP (CRCC) received your correspondence dated July 14, 2025, and April 4, 2026. In your correspondence, you reiterated concerns expressed in CRCC complaint file 2023-2623 and sought various forms of relief.

We cannot take the actions you requested because this matter is not within our jurisdiction.

Under section 45.53(1) of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act (RCMP Act), the CRCC's jurisdiction is limited to taking complaints about the conduct of members of the RCMP or other persons appointed or employed under Part I of the RCMP Act. After we took your complaint in 2023 and sent it to the RCMP for investigation, the RCMP informed you and the CRCC in a letter that the person who was the subject of the complaint was a municipal employee. This meant that the CRCC did not have the jurisdiction to take this complaint in the first place. It also meant that the CRCC did not have the jurisdiction to review the RCMP's letter.

As a result, your complaint file was closed on September 19, 2023.

Whether the person that is the subject of your complaint is a municipal employee or a federal public service employee (as you have indicated in your correspondence), this person is not an RCMP member or a person appointed or employed under Part I of the RCMP. As a result, we still do not have the authority to take a complaint or to review the RCMP's letter. This complaint file will therefore remain closed.

Please note that the RCMP Act does not provide an appeal process for this decision. You may wish to seek independent legal advice about any other options that may be available to you. Be aware that other processes may have strict deadlines.

Kind regards,

The Civilian Review and Complaints Commission for the RCMP
