Subject: Insufficient Action by RCMP and CSIS in Response to Neo-Nazi Hate Speech and Threats in Moncton NB CANADA.

*Date: March 9, 2024

Dear Prime Minister Trudeau, Minister Mendicino, MLA McKee, Minister Petitpas-Taylor, and Minister Blair,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the insufficient action taken by the RCMP and CSIS in response to a series of neo-Nazi hate speech and threats made against me. Despite reporting these incidents over a year ago, no charges have been laid, and the perpetrator remains at large.

Background

Last year, I received a series of emails and text messages from an individual known to me as [Andrew Nelson]. These messages contained neo-Nazi imagery, swastikas, and threatening language directed at me as a transgender woman and an antifa activist. The perpetrator also threatened violence against the Prime Minister of Canada and the President of the United States.

I immediately reported these incidents to the RCMP. An officer confirmed that the perpetrator had been placed on a watch list in Ottawa. However, to my knowledge, no further action has been taken.

Evidence

I have provided the RCMP with screenshots and emails that document the hate speech and threats made against me. These materials provide clear evidence of the perpetrator's extremist views and his intent to incite violence.

Legal Framework

Hate speech is a criminal offence in Canada under section 319 of the Criminal Code. It is defined as "any communication that expresses or incites hatred or discrimination against any identifiable group." The perpetrator's messages clearly meet this definition.

Failure to Protect

The RCMP and CSIS have a duty to protect Canadians from hate speech and violence. In this case, they have failed to take adequate action to address the threats made against me. This inaction has put me at risk and has sent a message to other neo-Nazis that they can operate with impunity.

Recommendations

I urge you to take immediate action to address this situation. Specifically, I recommend that:

- * The RCMP lay charges against the perpetrator for hate speech and uttering threats.
- * CSIS investigate the perpetrator's neo-Nazi connections and assess the potential for further violence.
- * The government provide additional resources to law enforcement and intelligence agencies to combat hate speech and extremism.

Conclusion

The inaction of the RCMP and CSIS in this case is a serious failure to protect Canadians from hate speech and violence. I urge you to take immediate steps to address this situation and ensure that all Canadians are safe from extremist threats.

Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter.

Sincerely,

Marie
