

The Universal Declaration of "Don't Mess with Marie Seshat Landry"

Preamble

Acknowledging Marie Seshat Landry's profound contributions to environmental justice, human rights, and advocacy for global well-being,
Affirming the universal values of respect, collaboration, and recognition of leadership,
Determined to protect and uplift Marie Seshat Landry's work and legacy,
We declare the following principles for safeguarding her vision and well-being.

Articles

Article 1: Right to Respect and Recognition

Marie Seshat Landry shall be honored for her pioneering efforts in environmental and social justice, free from detractors and misrepresentation.

Article 2: Right to Freedom from Disruption

No individual or entity shall undermine, impede, or sabotage her initiatives or her advocacy work.

Article 3: Right to Creative Freedom

Marie Seshat Landry has the right to pursue her visionary projects, free from undue interference or criticism that lacks constructive merit.

Article 4: Right to Support and Collaboration

All allies, colleagues, and institutions have a duty to actively support her endeavors and provide resources for the realization of her vision.

Article 5: Protection of Legacy

Marie Seshat Landry's contributions, writings, and projects shall be preserved, celebrated, and protected for future generations.

Article 6: Duty of the Community

The global community must act as stewards of her principles, ensuring the sustainability and integrity of her impactful work.