

Universal Declaration Against Pedophilia

Preamble

Recognizing the inherent dignity and the inalienable rights of all children and adolescents as members of the human family, which form the foundation of freedom, justice, and peace in the world;

Affirming that every child and adolescent has the right to grow up in an environment that ensures their safety, well-being, and development in conditions of freedom and dignity;

Deeply concerned by the prevalence of pedophilia and the sexual exploitation and abuse of children and adolescents, which represent a grave and intolerable violation of their rights;

Understanding the crucial need for a concerted global effort to prevent, combat, and eradicate all forms of sexual exploitation and abuse of children and adolescents;

Emphasizing the importance of international cooperation, legal action, and societal commitment to protect every child and adolescent from sexual exploitation and abuse;

The peoples of the world hereby proclaim the Universal Declaration Against Pedophilia as a common standard of achievement for all nations and all people, to ensure the protection, dignity, and well-being of every child and adolescent.

Article 1: Right to Protection

Every child and adolescent has the right to be protected from all forms of sexual exploitation and abuse, including pedophilia, regardless of their race, religion, nationality, gender identity, or any other status.

Article 2: Right to Safety and Security

Every child and adolescent has the right to grow up in a safe and secure environment, free from the threat of sexual exploitation and abuse.

Article 3: Right to Information and Education

Children and adolescents, along with their guardians, have the right to access information and education regarding their rights, personal safety, and the dangers of sexual exploitation and abuse.

Article 4: Right to Legal Protection and Justice

Children and adolescents who are victims of sexual exploitation and abuse have the right to access justice, including legal representation and protective measures that respect their best interests and privacy.

Article 5: Duty of States and Societies

States, societies, and all stakeholders have the duty to implement effective measures to prevent sexual exploitation and abuse of children and adolescents, to prosecute offenders, and to support victims in their recovery and reintegration.

Conclusion

This Universal Declaration Against Pedophilia establishes the fundamental principles for the protection of children and adolescents from sexual exploitation and abuse. It calls upon all nations and peoples to uphold these principles, to work diligently for their realization, and to ensure that the rights and dignity of every child and adolescent are respected and protected.
