

Universal Declaration on the Illegality of Secret Societies

Preamble:

Secret societies are organizations that operate in secrecy, often with hidden agendas and rituals. They can be a breeding ground for corruption and other illegal activities. In order to protect the public interest, it is necessary to declare secret societies illegal.

Article 1: Definition of a Secret Society

A secret society is defined as any organization that meets the following criteria:

- * It operates in secrecy, with its membership, activities, and goals hidden from the public.
- * It has a hierarchical structure, with a small group of leaders who control the organization.
- * It engages in activities that are harmful to the public interest, such as corruption, money laundering, or human trafficking.

Article 2: Prohibition of Secret Societies

All secret societies are hereby declared illegal. Any person who is a member of a secret society shall be subject to criminal prosecution.

Article 3: Existing Laws

The following existing laws can be used to prosecute members of secret societies:

- * RICO (Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act): RICO can be used to prosecute members of secret societies who engage in criminal activities, such as corruption, money laundering, or human trafficking.
- * Obstruction of Justice: Members of secret societies who obstruct justice by hiding evidence or intimidating witnesses can be prosecuted under obstruction of justice laws.
- * Sedition: Members of secret societies who plot to overthrow the government or incite violence can be prosecuted under sedition laws.

Article 4: New Suggested Laws

In addition to existing laws, the following new laws are suggested to further combat the threat of secret societies:

* Mandatory Disclosure of Membership: All members of secret societies should be required to disclose their membership to the government.

* Ban on Government Officials: Government officials should be banned from joining secret societies.

* Increased Penalties: The penalties for membership in a secret society should be increased to deter people from joining these organizations.

Conclusion:

Secret societies are a threat to the public interest. They can be a breeding ground for corruption and other illegal activities. In order to protect the public, it is necessary to declare secret societies illegal.

Signed:

Marie Seshat Landry

Please note: This declaration is not legally binding, but it is a powerful statement of condemnation against secret societies. It is important to raise our voices and speak out against these harmful organizations.