

Universal Declaration of Atheism

A Framework for Secular and Equal Rights

Recognizing the inherent dignity and equal rights of all individuals, regardless of belief or non-belief, as fundamental to human coexistence and mutual respect. Acknowledging the right of every individual to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion, including the freedom to hold no religious beliefs. Affirming the importance of secularism in governance to protect the rights of atheists and believers alike. Seeking to establish a common framework that respects personal autonomy while promoting harmony in diverse societies.

Article 1: Right to Freedom of Belief and Non-Belief

Every individual has the right to freely choose, adopt, or reject religious or philosophical beliefs, including atheism, without coercion or discrimination.

Article 2: Right to Equality

Atheists shall enjoy equal treatment under the law and in all spheres of life, without any form of prejudice based on their non-belief.

Article 3: Freedom from Religious Imposition

No individual shall be compelled to participate in religious practices or ceremonies or to affirm religious beliefs.

Universal Declaration of Atheism

Article 4: Secularism in Governance

States shall maintain secular governance, ensuring that no religious doctrine is favored over others or imposed on non-believers.

Article 5: Right to Dignity and Respect

Atheists shall have the right to dignity, respect, and protection from hate speech, harassment, or violence due to their non-belief.

Article 6: Freedom of Expression

Atheists have the right to express their philosophical perspectives, criticize religious doctrines, and participate in public discourse without fear of censorship or persecution.

Article 7: Right to Education

All individuals shall have access to education free from religious indoctrination, with curricula that respect diverse beliefs, including non-belief.

Article 8: Right to Privacy

Individuals have the right to keep their beliefs or non-beliefs private and shall not be compelled to disclose them.

Article 9: Access to Justice and Remedies

Atheists shall have equal access to legal remedies and protection under the law in cases of discrimination or rights violations.

Universal Declaration of Atheism

Article 10: Commitment to Mutual Understanding

States, communities, and organizations shall foster dialogue and mutual understanding between believers and non-believers to promote coexistence and social harmony.
