

Universal Declaration of Pew Pew Pew

The Grand Council of Pew-Pew Enthusiasts

February 13, 2025

Let it be known across galaxies, gaming arenas, and neon-lit laser tag fields that the right to Pew Pew Pew shall not be infringed.

Preamble

We, the defenders of fun, champions of fair play, and explorers of digital and galactic battlefields, declare the sacred right to Pew Pew Pew—the universal expression of epic combat, strategic engagement, and interstellar (or backyard) warfare. Recognizing that all beings, whether human, alien, or robotic, have the right to engage in responsible and honorable pew-pewing, we establish this declaration to guide future generations of warriors, gamers, and laser tag champions.

Article 1: The Right to Pew Pew Pew

All beings have the undeniable right to wield their blasters, phasers, laser guns, or pixelated firearms in the pursuit of epic battles, friendly duels, and strategic skirmishes.

Article 2: Fair Play and Honor in Combat

Pew-pewing must always be conducted with honor, sportsmanship, and respect for fellow combatants. No spawn-camping, cheating, or dishonorable tactics shall be tolerated in the sacred battlefield, whether virtual or real.

Article 3: The Universal Code of Engagement

1. No pew-pewing unarmed individuals unless they explicitly consent to a surprise battle.
2. No rage-quitting mid-battle—a true warrior fights until the last pixel or laser beam is fired.
3. Victory dances are allowed but must be performed with humility (unless it's a 1v1 duel, in which case, dance at your own risk).
4. Friendly fire should be forgiven, unless it was totally on purpose.

Article 4: The Preservation of Epicness

To ensure all pew-pew encounters remain legendary, every battle should be approached with creativity, energy, and cinematic flair. Slow-motion dodges, over-the-top one-liners, and dramatic last stands are highly encouraged.

Article 5: Inclusion in the Realm of Pew Pew

No warrior shall be excluded based on skill level, experience, or whether their blaster makes cool sound effects. All who seek the way of the Pew Pew Pew are welcome.

Article 6: The Right to Cool Gear and Gadgets

Every participant has the right to use awesome gear, whether it be futuristic laser rifles, dual-wielded blasters, or finger guns (provided the "pew pew" sound effect is properly voiced).

Article 7: The Future of Pew Pew

As technology evolves, so too shall the ways of pew-pewing. Whether in virtual reality, augmented reality, or actual deep-space dogfights, this declaration shall adapt to new frontiers of battle while maintaining the core principles of fun, fairness, and epic engagement.

Conclusion

Let it be known across galaxies, gaming arenas, and neon-lit laser tag fields that the right to Pew Pew Pew shall not be infringed. May all battles be legendary, all warriors honorable, and all duels resolved with a triumphant "PEW PEW PEW!"

Signed,
